Add Equipment To Aurora Dept., Library Complete

The shortest Aurora town council meeting in many years was held Monday night. The adjournment was moved after one hour and 57 minutes in session. Council meetings have been lasting until midnight usually and this year all of them have gone past midnight. The fire and water committee presented a report that was approved by council and will result in the purchase of new hose and hose accessories.

The matter of the fire truck and the new alarm was referred to the finance committee who will completely investigate the costs of both items.

According to the property committee the library had been furnished with an artificial ceiling and new lighting. A motion was passed allowing the property committee to have the interior of the building re-decorated. Chairman of the property committee, Victor Jones, assured the council that the members of the library board were completely satisfied with the alterations and repairs that have been made on the interior of the building.

The only eye-sore remaining now is the pulpit that stands at the end of the building. It is planned to install a heating unit in the building next fall and suggestions have been made to remove the pulpit at that time.

The big question at Monday's rapid council meeting was whether High Street is Dunning Ave. or is Dunning Ave. High Street? The question was cleared by council who assured Mr. Wm. Dunning that Dunning Ave. is and was Dunning Ave.

Wm. Dunning told council that the planning board in preparing plans of the town including the high school had called the street to the north of the school High St. For many years previous it had been called Dunning Ave. Mr. Dunning pointed out that his family had held the property in that district since 1874 and that he had given half the property to council for a road. A motion was made firmly establishing the name of the street as Dunning Ave.

York Central Scouts, Guides Parade in Aurora Sunday

The Brownies, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and Boy Scouts of York Central District will be gathering on Sunday, April 30, in the Aurora town park, Mosley and Wells Sts., at 2:15 p.m. All groups, accompanied by the Aurora high school and the Newmarket trumpet bands, will parade from the park at 2:30 p.m. by way of Wells, Spruce, Maple and Yonge Sts. to the Aurora United church to attend Scouts' Guides' own service at 3 p.m.

All parents and others interested in Scouting and Guiding are invited to attend the service which will be conducted by Rev. H. Howey, assisted by Rev. D. Whatmough, chaplain of the first Aurora group, and Scout Jas. Higgins. The Aurora public school choir under the direction of Mr. Illyd Harris will attend the service, during which their music will again be heard.

Following the service, the groups will re-assemble on Tyler St. and proceed by Yonge, Wellington, Victoria and Metcalfe Sts. to the park for dispersal. The salute will be taken in front of the post office by district Scout commissioner Clarke E. Locke and district Guide commissioner, Mrs. Gunn. Present with these district officers will be Mayor Alex. Bell and representatives of Aurora and the district.

The parade will be in the charge of assist. district commissioner John Snow and a large turnout of the representative youth of York Central District is expected at this spring service which, for the first time in many years, is being held at Aurora.

In the event of rain, groups will meet at the United church at 2:45 p.m.

The second treatment against whooping cough, diphtheria and tetanus is due April 26 and will be administered at the Newmarket public health nurse's office, 3 Rotsford St. Reinforced and fourth treatments will be given those who need them at that time.

Kindergarten, grade 1 Beginners' registration Starts on April 25

A registration for pupils who will be attending school for the first time in the kindergarten and Grade 1 on the opening day of school in September, 1950, will be held from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. as follows: Stuart Scott school, Tuesday, April 25; King George school, Thursday, April 27; Alexander Muir school, Friday, April 28.

Children ready for registration in the kindergarten must be at least five years of age on the opening day of school in September. Those for registration in Grade 1 must be at least six years of age on December 31 of this year.

Children for registration in the kindergarten must be residents of the municipality of Newmarket. Proof of age by birth certificate is required for each child registered in both kindergarten and Grade 1.

The public health nurse will be in attendance at the above registrations for consultation and inspection. To facilitate the organization of classes for this autumn, it is important that this registration be complete.

COMPLAINS OF ONE-HR. LIMIT PARKING SPACE

The age old problem of parking was raised in a meeting of Newmarket council Monday night. Prompted by another amendment to the parking by-law which adds new parking restrictions in the business area, councillor Tom Birrell said, "If you are to be down town more than an hour and you are carrying heavy parcels, you have no place to put your car."

Mr. Birrell complained that the parking lot owned by the town behind the town hall is always full of stalled cars or ones left there by their owners for days on end.

The parking amendment passed by council authorizes "no parking" on the north side of Park Ave. from Main St. to the end of the United church property, on the north side of Botsford St. from the radial railway right of way to Church St. and other restrictions on the Eagle St. corner beyond D'Arcy St.

"If you must carry parcels from the bus terminal to your car, there is no place to park near enough," said Mr. Birrell. "The free parking areas are too far away for carrying heavy parcels. The municipal parking lot is always filled with cars and you can't park at a meter if you are going to be more than an hour."

Mayor Vale suggested that signs be placed on the town property behind the town hall to limit the length of time for parking. "It's private property and we can make our own regulations to prevent cars being left there all the time," he said. "The offenders can be prosecuted for trespassing."

On Page 11 of this issue of the Era and Express is a review of what the parking meters have done since they were brought into Newmarket last November. A questionnaire has been published in an attempt to determine the public's attitude toward the regulations.

Dr. Chute to announce Diabetes findings

A report on the findings of the diabetes detection survey which was recently completed in Newmarket will be presented at an open meeting to be held in the town hall on Tuesday, April 25. In the absence of Dr. Best, Toronto, who previously was announced as guest speaker, Dr. A. H. Chute will speak at the meeting. Dr. Chute was in charge of the Newmarket survey and works in collaboration with Dr. Best in Canadian diabetes research.

The meeting is under the sponsorship of the Newmarket Home and School Association and will begin promptly at 8 p.m.

An essay contest on nutrition has been sponsored in the public schools by the Newmarket board of health. Prizes for the three age groups will be presented at this meeting.

See health unit Started by July, Appoint Dr. Dales

The York County health unit is expected to be functioning by July of this year. On Monday night, Dr. L. W. Dales was appointed by council as Newmarket's representative on the health unit which has been approved by ten of the 14 municipalities in the northern section of the county. A recent letter to the town from an official of the department of public health indicated that the unit would be established and functioning in July.

The health unit is being established to bring existing health services in the county communities under one service and extend health services to those areas where there have been none previously. So far, four of the 14 municipalities have not given their approval to such a plan. It has been pointed out that a centralized service might not be of the same value to Newmarket as the community's own local board of health. But it has also been pointed out that the unit will bring health services to some townships where no public health services have existed at all.

The health unit will probably employ a staff including a specially trained medical health officer, nurses and clerical personnel. It is not known yet where the headquarters of the unit will be established.

LAUNCH DRIVE TO AID BLIND IN DISTRICT

The annual drive to raise funds in aid of the work for the blind and the prevention of blindness in this district was launched on Monday evening. A meeting of the Newmarket and District Advisory Committee for the Blind was held at Trinity United church in Newmarket. Members representing Newmarket, Queensville, Keswick, Aurora and other communities were present, with Mrs. J. E. Morris in the chair.

Reports prepared by A. C. Lord, treasurer, Mrs. C. S. Gilbert, Welfare convener, and H. W. Henry, field secretary, disclosed that at the present time 33 blind persons are being assisted through the efforts of the committee in addition to a number of prevention of blindness cases for whom the committee has sponsored free eye examinations, free transportation and glasses.

To carry on this worthwhile work throughout 1950 the committee will require a budget of $2,000. The committee is confident that the response will be as generous as usual and that this objective will be easily reached. All workers in this campaign are voluntary and the entire proceeds are used in support of the service program carried on by The Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

Mrs. Morris expressed the hope that all voluntary canvassers and taggers working in connection with the drive would be given a courteous reception. Persons wishing to lend their financial support may forward their contributions by mail direct to Mrs. J. E. Morris, Newmarket.

The film "Bomber Command" which is said to have everything of interest to ex-airforce personnel will be shown. The local association has expressed its desire to meet all ex-airforce personnel in the district.

North York rallies To fight Annexation

A meeting of reeves, deputy-reeves and clerks of all the northern York county municipalities will be held in Newmarket Tuesday night to discuss Toronto's proposal to annex suburban municipalities. The McDonald Currie report on the financial effect it would have on York county will also be discussed.

The dinner meeting will be held at the King George hotel at 7 o'clock Tuesday night. It is being sponsored by the Newmarket council at the suggestion of Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette.

The McDonald Currie auditor's report arose from the efforts of a county fact finding committee which established what effect amalgamation would have on county finances. An increase of 100 percent on county costs was estimated.

The meeting was proposed recently by Deputy-reeve J. L. Spillette who has been attending meetings in Toronto with the reeves and deputy-reeves of the southern municipalities to discuss amalgamation proposals.

At present there are two amalgamation proposals, one of which will be chosen in the future by the Ontario municipal board. It is expected that amalgamation will take place by 1951. One proposal has come from the city of Toronto which would annex 11 municipalities and part of two others, taking a large suburban area around Toronto.

It has been established by a fact finding committee in the York county council that the Toronto proposal for amalgamation would cause the county tax levies of the remaining municipalities in the northern part of the county to be doubled. Newmarket's county mill rate and the mill rates of other municipalities not taken into the Toronto amalgamation proposal would be doubled. The cost of operating a county outside the proposed amalgamated area would be increased to such an extent that the municipalities would be overburdened, it has been said.

During meetings of reeves and deputy-reeves of the southern municipalities, the alternative proposal has been for a metropolitan plan to include Toronto within the county. Final reports from this committee and the county fact finding committee point to the county metropolitan plan as the only logical solution to urban expansion.

The reeves and deputy-reeves of the northern municipalities will discuss all aspects of amalgamation and its effect on their economy on Tuesday night. The purpose of the meeting is to show that the north is taking an official stand against the Toronto plan.

Legion receives Deed to property On 4th anniversary

Last night Mayor Joseph Vale turned over the deed for the Legion Hall property to Cecil Jarvis, president of the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion. The presentation was made at the fourth birthday party for the branch held at the hall. The mayor said that in the last four years, the Legion branch had proved that it is an asset to the community.

According to president Cecil Jarvis the aid to veterans which has been given by the Newmarket branch in the last four years is represented by $10,000, both in direct aid and in acquiring pensions which had previously been rejected to veterans in Newmarket and district.

Among the honored guests were Mayor Vale, Maj. Lex McKenzie, M.P.P., T. A. M. Hulse, Aurora, first vice president of the Ontario command, and J. O. Dales, president of the Optimist club of Newmarket. T. M. Ewing was presented with the Legion's past president's decoration.

Last Monday night the town council passed a by-law authorizing the sale of the property to the Legion branch for $750, to be paid over a period of ten years. Provisions were made that the property would be handed back to the town in the event that the Legion branch disbanded.

In return for the deed to the property, the president presented Mr. Vale with a cheque for $75, the first instalment on payment for the property. The Legion has made plans to improve the present building and also the grounds. The area around the building will be landscaped to make a pleasant park which will enhance the appearance of the new subdivision which has grown up in the last four years.

The birthday party terminated in a social evening which was augmented by musical excerpts from the Lions Minstrel show presented by a portion of the cast still in black face. The newly formed harmonica band, which is appearing with the minstrel show, also gave an excellent musical accent to the party.

PLAY TO PACKED HOUSES

Minstrels Make Music, Fun, Satire

The Newmarket Lions club presented its second annual Minstrel Show to packed houses Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the town hall. The show will be presented tonight and Friday night, and because of the demand, on Monday night of next week.

Directed by Alex Eves with music conducted by Bill Greig, the show is packed full of humorous and satirical references to Newmarket personalities and customs. The cost plus and parking meters are ribbed unmercifully as are several Newmarket businessmen.

The show varies from last year in its setting, the second act being played without the usual chorus background. In contrast, the curtain rises on a levee scene with members of the chorus sprawled about the stage. The backdrop, painted specially by Fred Hagan, shows a typical river scene.

Murray Huntley and Terry Doane are in top form, the former singing "Lucky Old Sun" and "River Stay Away from My Door," the latter, "Lindy Lou" and "Dear Hearts and Gentle People." Eugene McCaffrey sings "Lazy Bones" and Charles Boyd, "Carolina Moon" and "Without a Song." James Walker sings again that hit of last year, "Alabama Barbeque" and his own version of Jolson's version of "Mammy." The chorus, numbering 25, was never better.

End men Jimmy Walker, Eugene McCaffrey, Jack Luesby and Moff Cockburn are the same four who captivated the audience last year with their high jinks. Any further remarks on their performance would spoil the show for those yet to see it, but suffice to say that Luesby has not the kind of shape that looks good in a bathing suit.

Johnny Hines shows a new talent with his version of "Life is Tedium" to the accompaniment of Cecil Gibson and Alex Georges with their banjos. A crap shooting scene in the second act with "sevens come eevens" set to music is a fresh novelty.

The Tobey Twins show a decided fondness for "Shortened Bread" with their duet backed up by the snake dancing chorus.

Ang West, variously appearing as the old southern colonel, music hall impressario, carnival barker and general nuisance, kept the audience in stitches with his straight-faced comedy. Ang is currently plugging a couple of new songs which should make the hit parade in Newmarket and district thanks to his tuncful efforts. Again, to tell of Ang's efforts in detail would be to spoil the show for audiences yet to come.

A between the acts performance is the work of the Harmonica Club whose songs on mouth organ, guitar and accordion are well received. Surprise additions to the show are Chester Best in costume and Johnny White in civvies.

The orchestra, under the capable direction of Mr. Greig, is thoroughly entertaining between acts and as accompaniment to the high jinks on the stage.

Blind Campaign

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is planning a tag day in this community during the first week in May. Everyone is asked to give generously for the support of this work.

ously for the support of this work.

Hockey Dinner

On Wednesday, April 12, in the Keswick Memorial Arena, the Optimist Club gave a highly successful presentation supper to all the teams in the North Gwillimbury Inter-School Hockey League. About 60 boys were present. The trophy was presented to the winning team from Belhaven school by Herb Cain of Newmarket, former Montreal and Boston N.H.L. hockey star.

Post Office Interior

The interior of our new post office is now finished and is attractive. It supplies a much-needed addition to our growing village.

Mrs. Etta Wilder has returned to her Keswick home after spending the winter with her daughter in Toronto.

Mrs. J. J. Cameron and Miss B. Terry spent Tuesday in Toronto.

Easter guests at Mr. and Mrs. Archie MacKinnon's were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacKinnon and daughter, Donna, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bain and Mrs. Bain, Sr., Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson, St. Catharines.

Keswick W.C.T.U.

An interesting W.C.T.U. meeting took place on Tuesday evening, April 11, at the home of Mrs. Perry Winch, Sr. Mrs. Serick, who is president for the second year, was the leader. Mrs. F. Marritt gave as her devotional a splendid talk on the Easter message.

Mrs. Kennedy gave a topic on Temperance Pointers, endeavoring to show by editorials taken from the Temperance Advocate The White Ribbon Tidings and the daily newspapers just how the liquor menace is progressing and also showing in many ways how the Temperance Federation and public opinion are gradually but surely gaining ground.

Everyone took part in the chip sheet discussion on the menace of "sweepstakes". The Keswick arena open on Sundays also came up for discussion and the unanimous opinion of the ladies was that it would be much better to have the placed closed on the Sabbath day.

Several new members have joined and we are hoping that others will become interested in the work. The May meeting will be on May 9 at the home of Mrs. Wilder.

Loss by Insurance

Twelve years ago John Jones insured his home for a sum which would replace it if destroyed. Last week it burned down and to his sorrow poor John found that his insurance money would just be enough to build a basement for a new home. Values have changed. How about your insurance? Are you safe? Talk costs you nothing. What about a chat on the subject with

says

When we were small folk going to primary school, over where the King George school now stands, we never dreamed of what wonderful schools Newmarket was to see before many years.
We love to look back on what some people call "the good old days." Who said "good" old days? I wonder if we mean it literally or just like to hear ourselves talk? I was telling somebody the other day about going up to the Alexander Muir and we had such huge drifts of snow to plow through, or wait, rather, till somebody had dug a path through for us. For of course the modern O.S. Mfg. Co. building, north of Timothy St., was not then built—and it was all one big field.
How the wind did blow across there—and piled the snow into 15-foot drifts. That was such a lovely field, winter and summer.
In the long ago I can recall a flight of steps running down to the field beside the tracks where once a rink used to stand between the side-walk and the stream.

Walking the Trestle
It used to be quite an adventure to walk the railroad trestles of the trestle bridge (still there, I expect) over the creek. Some timid souls would never venture it, just like some girls could never climb a tree! We used to wear moccasins and those days.
It was the fashion, you see—and better be out of the world as out of fashion. Moccasins were all right till it started to thaw.
Going home from school we used to race down the field instead of going along the built-up walk, and up those steps I spoke about. Queer how things come back, for as I think of those steps I naturally think of the old rink, and hearing someone tell about the "Hallowe'en boys" hauling a "top-buggy" up on to the roof of the rink on Hallowe'en night. From all accounts the young men used to put in a good night's work on Hallowe'en.

One year there were "funny" things, witty things, I should say, written in whitewash on every business store window and how we enjoyed reading them as we went along Main St. next morning on our way to high school. They used to use wooden packing boxes in the old days and they were always put out behind the stores on Cedar St.
One Hallowe'en, the young men had built an arch of empty wooden boxes across Main St.
But here, I started to write about the special schools Newmarket has acquired since I went to primary school on the corner of Park Ave. and Church St.
Those who lived in the west end of the town had to attend
"primary school" till you passed
"up on the hill," and how we were warned about crossing the G.T.R. tracks! The C.P.R. sent one train a week over our branch, if I remember rightly. I know that the first time I went to B.C. I boarded the train here, and our car was attached to the main train at North Bay, coming from Montreal and Ottawa.

Thought it Wonderful
The Alexander Muir school was thought to be wonderful in those far away days—and after the stove-heated old school we had left, we certainly thought it was. At the old primary school we had a pump, and to be able to get a drink by putting your hand under the spout, while somebody pumped, was quite an accomplishment. I mean to get a drink without having a deluge up your sleeve or get your feet soaked. We must have been healthy young animals to stand life in the Good Old Days.

There was one thing I always dreaded and that was having a chimney on fire. The old fire bell, the loesin, was up in the tower at the top of Main St. hill —the tower that lost its top last year. Where is the bell, I wonder, for I have not heard it ring for years. It used to ring for firemen's meetings. I still would like to know how they rang it for a fire to make it sound like it did. Such a rapid sound — I can't begin to describe it. Dear me, there are lots of things I'd like to know, and do! I once told a serious-minded person, who certainly wasn't gifted with conversational powers, that if I lived to be a hundred, I'd still never accomplish all the lovely things I wanted to do.
What do you suppose he said?
Just one little sentence, and he never smiled—just looked at me very seriously and said "It's well to be you." I think I am well sorry for him. Maybe he isn't alive still—I wouldn't know—but how anybody hasn't lots and lots of lovely things to do I can't understand. Cheerio.

Maple breeders add Shorthorn bulls Service six counties

The Maple Cattle Breeders artificial breeding unit which branched out with Guernseys last fall to make the fourth dairy breed have recently added a battery of shorthorn bulls at the request of the beef producers lying outside of the more concentrated dairy area of the Toronto milk shed. Meetings were arranged by the agricultural representatives and directors of the association in the counties of Dufferin, Simcoe, Ontario, Victoria and Peterboro during the winter to discuss this with those interested.

Because of the response, the directors authorized the purchase of a group of Shorthorns and the committee after deciding on the Ransom line of breeding was fortunate in securing two bulls that have been used by the Ontario Agricultural College, one a six-year-old bull, Ransom 135, that has done such a grand job at the New Liskeard Demonstration Farm, and the two-year-old Ransom 23A that has been so popular at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Two other Ontario Agricultural College bulls were purchased at the recent Toronto bull sale, the highest priced shorthorn which carried the richest Ransom breeding in the sale, Ontario Agricultural College Ransom 12C and the other, Ontario Agricultural College Royal 15C, from one of their best Ransom dams and sired by the imported bull, Uppermill Royal. A third bull purchased at the sale was Glenburn Outlaw, a Deacon breed grandson of Robinwood Colonel which was placed first in a class of 15 in the show which preceded the sale.

Shorthorn services have been available since the last week of March and to date the demand has justified the new venture. Several of the 150 who have already signed up had not expected to get services from such outstanding sires, and many of the recent visitors to the barns at Maple have commented most favorably on this new addition to the stud. It is not surprising that the local inseminators are signing up new members nearly every day.

At the first regular meeting of the new board of directors last Tuesday, two directors were added to the board as authorized by the annual meeting to represent the recently added breeds. Allan Baldson, Sharon, a director of the York Simcoe Guernsey club, will represent the Guernsey breeders and R. J. Rogers, Newmarket, R. R. 1, former agricultural representative for York county, will represent the shorthorn members.

The congregation of St. James' church, Sharon, has been hearing organ and choral music that is rare in country churches since the arrival of Rev. Robert Pugh. An organist of merit, an authority on church music of all ages, he has made a strenuous effort to introduce his congregation to church music of the highest quality.

On Wednesday of Holy Week, Rev. Pugh conducted a recital of church music which was brilliant in its range of selections and performance. He was assisted by Mrs. D. de Britigney of Sharon at the piano, soloists Misses Madeleine Rye, Patricia Rae Donnell and Master Robert Vernon. Selections introduced the audience to Elizabethan composers.

Mr. Pugh is a rare asset in any congregation. We hope he will be encouraged to continue his efforts.

The young man was a most engaging guide and dressed quite soberly as befitting his position, an instructor in the mysteries of art to gallery goers at the Exhibition of Contemporary Canadian Arts at the Toronto Art Gallery.

"Now this," he said, leading his party to a large painting in the corner, "this might be described as a fair example of modern art. Personally, I don't care for it. Perhaps you do. I don't. However, there are all sorts of tastes."

The painting consisted of a series of musical symbols in brilliant colors imposed upon a grid effect against a murky grey background. "The painter is interested in music," the guide continued. "We know something of him by his painting. Music moving in space and in time," and as he spoke he gestured gracefully towards the picture. The members of the party gazed stolidly at the painting.

"See how the musical symbols trace a movement in space and time and . . . ah . . . in space and . . . ah . . . time. There is plenty of action in this picture, as you can see, the music symbols moving forward and backward."

"This canvass is simply full of music. Can't you feel it . . .

ah . . . hear it? Of course, I don't care much for this painting. You may like it. It is really quite modern. There really is a good deal of music in it. In fact," said the guide as he prepared to lead his party to the next painting, "in fact, I don't know whether you would call it a painting at all."

We were inclined to agree with the guide although we would apply his judgment to most of the work on display at the exhibition. "In size, in scope, and, we hope, in quality," this exhibition surpasses any other collection of Canadian contemporary art," the catalogue told us. That hope, we fear, is completely unfounded. What was shown at the gallery was not art but displays of shallow cleverness and virtuosity without understanding. There was nothing in the show, with 20 or 30 exceptions among the some 600 works exhibited, that remotely suggested their authors had anything of importance to say.

The exhibition was described as a cross section of Canadian art. If what we saw was such, then Canadian art is at a low level indeed. There was nothing which struck a common note. Almost to a man, they seemed unaware of a relation between themselves and their place and time. They were obscure, substituting puzzles for sense. Their techniques, for the most part, were poor. Draftsmanship seems to be a lost art. There was neither depth nor perception to most of the work, merely surface scribbling. Most of them betrayed an acute feeling of insecurity, of an uncomfortable acceptance of the times. If the show was truly "the cross section of Canadian art" that the catalogue suggested, then Canadian art was at low tide.

We would emphasize that the above judgment is perhaps sweeping; we are writing only from an over-all impression of the show. We stress, too, that it does not apply to the craft work upstairs which shows considerably more skill and understanding than the work of the more highly-touted artists below.

York County Hospital

York County hospital records for the month of March give an indication of how necessary the hospital is to this district. During March, 51 male and 128 female patients were admitted to the hospital. Thirty-two male and 35 female children were born there.

Twenty-nine major operations and 33 minor were performed. Ten accident victims were operated on. Two hundred general x-rays and 153 chest x-rays were taken. Two hundred and twenty-nine patients were discharged.

There was no small opposition to the hospital when it began. Sick people were being taken to Toronto or were treated in their homes to the general inconvenience of everyone in the house and many times a danger to the patient. Patients are still sent to Toronto for special treatments or operations, but York County hospital has become the haven for the sick as far south as Richmond Hill and as far north as beyond Bradford. The hospital too serves a necessary role each summer as accidents increase on the highways, and population doubles and triples along the Lake Simcoe shore. Its presence has encouraged doctors to locate in the district with resultant advantage to everyone.

It is not generally realized that the hospital plays another role in Newmarket itself where, quite apart from its service to the sick, it represents the equivalent of a minor industry. It has a regular pay-roll, much of which is spent in town; it buys in town; it offers employment in town; and it is an inducement to new citizens and industries to settle in town.

Artificial farm Ponds

Home-made farm ponds are winning a growing acceptance in central Canada. Two or three have been reported in Whitechurch township; there may be a good many more. In the United States, some 250,000 have been built in the last ten years with government assistance.

The average pond covers an acre. The cost is usually up to $700 or $800 but can certainly be built for a good deal less where nature assists. Utilizing the natural slope of the land to form most of the pond, a dam is built from earth at the open end to hold the water back. A bulldozer can enlarge such a bowl, pushing the earth to the site of the dam. Such a pond needs no stream nor spring to sustain it; pent up rain will do the job. A grassed spillway is needed, so surplus water will drain off without cutting through the dam.

Farm ponds have many purposes: a ready source of water in case of fire or drought; swimming; raising of waterfowl; and fish. A one-acre farm pond, properly managed, will supply as much as 300 pounds of fish a year after its original stocking.

A small amount of ingenuity plus help from nature has made more than one farm pond a source of saving. Built high on a slope, one farm pond in Washington runs a turbine which makes the farm's electricity. Other ponds built above the barn provide the farm water by gravity flow.

Harsher penalty needed

Two children were killed on the highway a short time ago by a car or truck whose driver did not stop. Apparently aware of the accident, he speeded his vehicle and outdistanced his pursuit. At this writing, he has not been located although police have launched an intensive search for him. It was not long before this accident that a newsboy was found dead in a ditch, another victim of a hit and run driver.

Ontario is having an increasing number of such accidents. In some instances, the drivers, when arrested by police, have pleaded ignorance of the accident. Others have surrendered with a variety of excuses for the delay between the accident and their appearance. Ignorance can be justified up to a point. Frequently, however, the gravest suspicion is attached to the possibility that the driver delayed his surrender until he could remove incriminatory evidence from his car or his person. If he had been drinking, for example, he is better off to delay his surrender until sober and then plead ignorance. He is risking only the penalty of "failure to remain at the scene of the accident" against the harsher penalty of drunken driving.

Drivers are encouraged in this by the comparatively minor penalties for "hit and run". Yet, while taking this course, they are showing a most callous disregard for human life. They cannot know, at the time of the accident, if life is left in the victim, whether the aid they could give at that time might save the victim's life. Intent only on their own comfort, they knowingly leave their victims. Surely, such an action merits a harsh penalty. Accidents will happen, yes, but there is nothing in this world which excuses flight from the victim when assistance might save his life.

Newmarket and Aurora, situated as they are on through highways, have more than an academic interest in this issue. Provision for extreme penalties will deter hit and run drivers. Support of such an action from municipalities upon the highways will help bring it about.

Dividends in corn

"You can't have your cake and eat it too."

That used to be perfectly true but no longer. Since governments began monkeying with economics, it is not quite the usual thing to have your cake and eat it, or in the case of the American farmer, sell your corn for $1.48 and buy it back for feed at 65 cents.

The government support price for corn in the United States is $1.48. According to the Farm Quarterly, one farmer who normally uses all his corn for feed, had such a bumper crop that he cribbed a 904-bushel surplus and was paid a $1,319 loan by the government for it. He was told by a neighbor that he should have put his entire crop in as surplus, and then buy all the corn he needed on the open market at 65 cents a bushel.

In short, while selling his corn to the government at the support price, and buying what he needs for feed on the open market, the farmer could make an extra 50 cents to 80 cents (depending on market price) on every bushel of corn he fed his pigs and chickens. The farmer was told, by the agricultural agent, that he was doing the proper thing. "By keeping all my corn off the market and buying corn on the market for feed, I would be building up the price which was just what the whole program was designed to do," he related.

Dimming car lights

Law and common courtesy demand that car lights be dimmed before oncoming traffic. How many drivers do this? Very few, indeed. The law is not easily enforced and courtesy is absent most on the highways. The alternative then seems to be to impose lighting standards upon the automobile makers.

Bright lights of oncoming traffic may appear to be hardly more than a momentary annoyance but how frequently these words are heard in court: "I was blinded by the lights of oncoming traffic and didn't see him walking at the side of the road" or "didn't see the traffic barrier". Bright car lights are a major traffic hazard.

Is there any reason why a standard for brightness and focusing cannot be established? If the adjustments were made by the automobile makers there would be no need to depend upon unenforceable law or the most unreliable factor in driving, courtesy.

'Spring songs'

The unmistakable signs of spring are all about us. Main St. is as bumpy as a wart hog's back. Birds are nesting, pussy-willows are budding, and the children come in covered with mud. Less pleasant manifestations of the season are the expected appearances of the city salesmen who annually raid the small towns with their phony wares.

Specifically, we refer to the phony program salesmen. Their appearance on Main St. is expected momentarily. They will be selling advertising space in programs which are never printed, or which fail to live up to the glowing build-up given the merchants. The routine has been practised so frequently in Newmarket and Aurora that one wonders why it is encouraged but, to paraphrase an old saying, "once bitten, ready to be bitten again."

Otherwise thoroughly practical and hard-headed businessmen seem to lose these virtues when confronted with a fast talking salesman, and permit themselves to be quickly sold. Possibly, it is because the business of advertising seems something of a mystery to them. But there is no mystery about advertising. It will do a job for the businessmen if used correctly just like any of the other tools of his business.

When these salesmen make their appearance, we suggest that the customer ask himself: who is going to see this advertising? Are they potential customers? Is the result of this advertising going to help my business? And is the medium of advertising going to be read or heard?

If the salesman is selling a good product, he will be able to give proof to the answers of these questions.

Fishing and bird watching are the next interests to be considered now that spring is here.

More energetic people have just spent themselves into wrecks over the horrors of the hockey season and are now preparing to launch into the baseball neurosis. Watching all that wasteful expenditures of physical energy is too hard on me.

Listening to a symphony orchestra or sleeping through the Saturday afternoon opera are my winter pastimes. As for spring, give me fishing or bird watching. I like to combine them, reclining sleepily on an old log waiting for a bite from a fish while I watch seagulls soar overhead.

The trouble with people nowadays is that they go at their pastimes tooth and nail with the frenzied overworked enthusiasm. It's all a part of the pragmatic outlook of this American age. Personally, I hate consumer gadgets, sports hysteria, over-propagandizing our side, inflated news stories, hockey broadcasts and bop.

I would rather fish and bird watch.

Last Friday my friend, Slim, and I commenced a fishing and bird watching expedition. By Saturday we thought of a place where we would go.

"But if we go there that will involve driving the 'T' and one of us will be forced to pump up the flat tire while the other goes and gets some gas in a can," Slim complained.

We thought it over and decided the amount of work would ruin all possible enjoyment in the expedition.

"Why not sit in my back yard and look at bird pictures through my stereoscope?" said Slim.

"Have you no soul?" said I. "No longing to get out into the wilds and commune with nature?"

With much effort we moved ourselves and fishing poles to the edge of town near a willow tree on Bogartown Creek. It involved a ten-minute walk. We were baitless but of course there are no fish in Bogartown Creek. Besides the trout season has not opened yet.

I had a pair of opera glasses with one lens gone and Slim carried the bird record book.

The soft zephyrs of spring played through the willow branches on that beautiful afternoon as we fished and fished and fished and watched and watched and watched.

As the day wore on and our catch increased I counted 12 English sparrows and one unconfirmed woodpecker. Slim spotted a chicken hawk hovering at 10,000, a Piper Cub and a formation of Harvards. The latter two species were not credited.

At the end of the day we walked to the nearest house on Gorham St., called a taxi and tired though happy, were driven home.

It is the wrong kind of living other people live which bothers me. Where is that mad pace going to get them? It is small wonder psychiatry was invented in the 20th century. I am glad that I am not a part of the American age.

What does it take to make a community? We often hear the expression they have a real community" or the "community spirit" is good in a district.

We will have to group the people in a district to find out what makes things click. We have one group who take their pleasure with card games and refreshment that leaves them far from refreshed next morning.

There are others who think things are so wicked that even the church is bad in their minds. They withdraw from all community activity and try to keep themselves undefined.

Some are great talkers, know what should be done and how to do it, but never start, or do, any community work. Then we have the "no opinion" and the "kicker" groups. Lastly we have the only group who counts—the workers.

We broke 53 families into groups—seven kickers, five no opinion, eight questionable pleasure, 15 talkers only, 13 workers. From the 13 worker families, we could find only about three that would plan any community project. The other ten families will work the project out when planned.

We read where all groups at times work together. In one small community, the church burned down. The whole community including those that patronized the liquor trade offered their help to build the new church. The preacher wisely accepted this support recognizing that these men realized that no community could be right, just and perfect without the influence of the organized Christian church.

We have those who justify their not taking any part in community work because someone said or did something they did not like. We have the same thing in our churches, members withdrawing their names and support because some other member acted or said something that in their opinion was wrong. To this class, Christianity is a word only.

Then we have those who when someone talks in terms they do not understand, say that is communism. And anyone studies and tries to find out the approach communism takes to society, there are those who think because you know and can talk about communism you must be a communist.

To follow this way of reasoning: if a man talked about the Salvation Army he would have to put on the uniform, carry the flag and beat the drum of a parade.

Knowing eliminates fear. Communism can only exist where there is injustice. The two communist members in the Ontario legislature are always ready to debate anything that may seem to be of an injurious nature. In the hungry 30's communism made great progress in Canada. When our Canadian people got word there was no room for communism. In our capitalist system we have plenty of evidence of injustice in reports from royal commissions and combines investigation. This is the reason communism gets into our Canadian society. If we Canadians will get the dead wood out of our thinking and remove the causes, there just won't be any communism.

To try and outlaw and put few members of the communist party out of circulation as we have tried to do just help communism along.

In our community meeting when a vote is taken a few hands go up. Only a few people know what they want. Then it is very amusing to see the hands follow one by one. Ninety percent of our voting community is influenced by a very few people. We depend on someone else to do our thinking for us. The communist party knows what wants and is clever enough to see our weaknesses. If those boys get in at the top, they have a clear field. Cheerio.

LIGHTING THE FUSE

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

An Aurora Opinion

RAY WILLIAMS

Aurora Editor

Spring fever! It looks to us as if nearly everyone in Aurora has a touch of the seasonal germ. Although spring was officially ushered in a month ago, it didn't seem to mean very much until last weekend.

And now, look what has happened. Gardens have been raked, houses are getting the full treatment, storm windows are coming down, heavy winter clothing is being hung on clothes lines before having the moth balls applied, teen-agers are wearing those red, blue, green and even yellow slacks—but, of major importance, is the happy spirit of everybody.

Ambition is plentiful. Fathers make the usual announcement that this year he is going to have a garden that is really going to produce. And, he will start at it with enthusiasm unequalled before, but by the first of July, he probably will have run out of steam to such an extent that the unfortunate mothers will be seen shoving the lawn mower over weedy grass.

Then there are the daughters and sons who will promise with honest intent that they will help in the monstrous job of house cleaning. But again, it will be the unfortunate mothers who will be left with the job as the youngsters will leave the floor polisher in the middle of a room substituting for it a baseball bat or tennis racket.

Probably it is the happiest time of the year. It is also the most inspirational time of the year. And also, there are more wedding engagements announced during the spring than during any other season.

While there is happiness though, there is also tragedy. Every day during the spring in Ontario some child meets a tragic death or is the victim of a crippling accident.

Many of the accidents are a result of a child stepping into the path of an oncoming truck or car. Usually the driver has little chance. But whether the driver of the car or the child who is struck is at fault, the tragic blow is struck.

Letters to the Editor

ANSWERS CRITIC

The editor: The interesting letter by "Former Dirt Farmer" (last week's Era and Express), stated that the Federation of Agriculture is not democratically controlled because we have no membership fees and the way we are formed.

In our federation meetings any farmer from the floor may speak for or against any motion or resolution. The opinions coming from farm people across Canada, by way of our study groups and farm forums, have an important part in forming our federation policies.

"Former Dirt Farmer" says that farm prices in the past have been the last to rise and the first to come down and to have it any other way would be disastrous.

The manipulation of farm prices in the past has been to the disadvantage of the farmer. The federation is asking that the farmer at all times to bear a fair relation to the price of goods and services that the farmer must buy.

This, we farmers, call parity prices. "Former Dirt Farmer" says that parity floor prices and associated evils prevent democracy from fulfilling its intended purpose.

If by asking equal rights and fairness for the farmer becomes something evil, then we Canadians should clarify our way of thinking.

Ross Armitage, Secretary, Whitechurch Federation of Agriculture.

RETRACTION, APOLOGY

The editor: Re my article entitled "Federation policies said 'worst enemy' of farmer today," published in the issue of April 13.

I have since realized that certain strong criticisms I made of C.F.A. policies and other policies I related to them are not based on fact and therefore entirely wrong.

I therefore wish and herewith do beg to retract the said strong criticisms with which in your relating editorial of the same issue you disagreed entirely.

I deeply regret and herewith do humbly apologize to federation members and to all those other concerned parties affected for any insult and injury the said article may have caused them and their respective organizations.

I am satisfied to acknowledge as readers of the said article have no doubt concluded that I am neither a fit nor responsible character to be writing in publication.

I do beg and ask that this document be satisfactory to all parties affected.

My best wishes are for the future welfare of the C.F.A. pursuing policies in keeping with the economic necessity of the times.

"Former Dirt Farmer".

COMING EVENTS

The editor: Would you please publish the following letter in the next issue of your paper.

"To Whom It May Concern: It has been brought to the attention of your Recreation Commission that in the past several events have been scheduled for the same evening.

In order to overcome this unnecessary conflict it is requested by your Recreation Commission that in future any organization contemplating a coming event first contact your local newspaper before setting a date.

A list of dates for coming events are recorded in the Era and Express office and we feel that if all organizations co-operated by first checking the date that this inconvenience could be adequately remedied.

Yours truly, Lorne Paynter, chairman, Recreation Commission."

Any publicity that you could give the above mentioned would be greatly appreciated.

Phyllis G. Brown, secretary-treasurer.

THANKS FOR EASTER EGGS

The editor: The Aurora Era: Our many friends of the Aurora district have remembered us again. For our big family for the Easter celebration, 170 dozen eggs.

The happy thought, the generous giving, the Christlike spirit of love surely stir us to the depths. To all who are responsible for the activity, to all who are givers in the gathering, to all who in any way contributed that this happy result might come to pass, our warmest thanks.

With every expression of appreciation, W. L. L. Lawrence, secretary for the board.

YORK COUNTY

In Review 1615 - 1949

This is another of a series of articles on the history of York County, edited by Hugh Griggs, Mimico, from information compiled during the past four years by W. G. Goddard, staff member of Weston Collegiate Institute and Vocational School. York County celebrates its centenary this year.

No one can study the history of York County without soon learning of the important role played by the Queen's York Rangers in the development of the district which later became the County of York.

Excerpts from Brief Historical Sketch of Queen's York Rangers reveal many interesting facts.

When the colonies in America revolted in 1775, the old corps was sent by the politics of the time. Major Rogers reported to General Sir William Howe in New York, and on August 6, 1776, was commissioned by the general as lieutenant-colonel and instructed to raise a regiment, "The Queen's Rangers", named after his old corps.

In August, the Queen's Loyal Virginia Regiment arrived in New York and was absorbed in the Queen's Rangers.

In 1776, Lieut.-Colonel French succeeded Lieut. Colonel Rogers who returned to England and died about the year 1800. Lieut.-Colonel French was succeeded after a few weeks by Major Weymes.

During the interesting manoeuvres in the Jerseys, the regiment particularly distinguished itself and was especially mentioned in dispatches.

In the Battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777, the regiment won its first great laurels—operating on the right wing of General Knyphausen's division, it moved swiftly down a narrow valley and fell on the left of the Americans defending Chad's Ford. The enemy was thrown in confusion. The Rangers pressing on to sweep aside a second brigade seized the ford. The regiment was victorious, but the loss was heavy, one fifth of the whole army.

The regiment was made, and henceforth its constant activities were followed with admiration, and perhaps a little envy by the whole army. From the date of Brandywine, until the end of the war, the regiment was always in front in battle.

It may be of interest to know that the regiment had in its possession a steel engraving of a hachured map showing the position of the troops on September 11, 1777. This map was published according to Act of Parliament by Wm. Faden, Charing Cross, London, England, on April 13, 1778, 164 years ago and less than eight months after the battle.

The ranks of the regiment thinned at Brandywine, were again sorely tried at Germantown and among the wounded was Major Weymes.

On October 15, 1777, Captain John Graves Simcoe of the Grenadier Company of the 40th regiment was appointed to command the Rangers with the rank of major. Under Simcoe, the regiment became a model of discipline, bravery and efficiency.

Long before the close of the war it was acknowledged by friend and foe alike to be the most efficient single unit in the field.

Sir Henry Clinton succeeded Sir William Howe as commander-in-chief in February, 1778, and shortly after Simcoe was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. About the same time, when the regiment crossed the Delaware, en route to New York, it was complete in cavalry, artillery and infantry, and even had a killed company with a piper.

On May 2, 1779, the commander-in-chief issued a general order, which brought joy and pride to the hearts of the regiment. In part, it stated "that His Majesty, anxious to reward the faithful service and spirited conduct of the Queen's Rangers upon several occasions, has been pleased to confer upon them the following marks of His Royal Favour. The regiment to be styled and numbered, 'The First American Regiment'."

Through the summer, the regiment was employed in the outposts, or on expeditions into the enemy's territory, north of New York.

At the end of October, the regiment carried out successfully one of the most daring exploits of the war.

Washington had collected at Middlebrook in New Jersey, a number of barges intended for use in an attack on New York, and those, Colonel Simcoe was ordered to destroy. After an exciting march, the boats were destroyed, but the force had to fight its way back and not without much loss. Colonel Simcoe was wounded, thrown from his horse, stunned and taken prisoner.

With only one brief halt to feed at an enemy forage dump, the cavalry covered 80 miles, and the infantry marched 30 miles through enemy country, all in the course of a day and a night.

During the winter, Colonel Simcoe rejoined on exchange and found the regiments quartered at Richmond.

Early in April, 1780, the regiment was ordered south and arrived at Charlestown just as the siege got under way. After taking its part in the capture of the town, it was sent back to New York and from its station on Staten Island took part in the attack on Springfield, and in raids in force into New Jersey.

In December, the Rangers embarked for Virginia under Benedict Arnold, then appointed brigadier general in the British service. First, the Rangers captured Richmond, Va., destroyed an important arsenal at Westham, then dispersed the militia at Charles City. After dealing with other bodies of the enemy the force returned to Portsmouth.

Article three will give further details about the historic Queen's Rangers.

IN MEMORIAM

Sanderson—In loving memory of our dear mother, Eliza Sanderson, who passed away April 20, 1949. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break, but all in vain.

But this they wipe out many things
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
Sadly missed by Tom and Pansy.

Somerville—In ever loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Charles Somerville, who passed away April 15, 1931.

Beyond the gate our loved one Finds happiness and rest,
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.
Lovingly remembered by Laura, Russell and Frances.

Weddel—In fond memory of a dear father and grandfather, Levi

Weddel, who passed away April 23, 1948.

Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
Ever remembered by son, David, daughter-in-law, Margaret, and grandchildren.

Weddel—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Levi Weddel, who passed away April 23, 1948.

Should you go first and I remain
To walk the road alone,
I'll live in memory's garden, dear,
With happy days we've known.
In spring I'll watch for roses red,
When fades the lilac blue;
In early fall, when brown leaves fall,
I'll catch a glimpse of you.
Should you go first and I remain,
One thing I'd have you do:
Walk slowly down that long, lone path,
For soon I'll follow you.
I'll want to know each step you take,
For that I may walk the same;
For some day down that lonely road
You'll hear me call—your name.
Lovingly remembered by wife, Olga, and family.

A brief devotional period and business session were followed by a social hour. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

"Batter up"

By HOWARD MORTON

All over North America that famous call rings out this week to usher in the American pastime for 1950.

Although we in Canada have never regarded baseball in the same light as our American cousins, we are, nevertheless, familiar with the great names of the major leagues. The progress of the American and National leagues will be followed daily until it culminates in the world series. Many Canadians will travel to the States in the early fall to see that baseball classic.

One famous Canadian miner in bygone days actually chartered a train to convey himself and friends to the famous games. What a justification that must have been!

Thinking of the great names of baseball always conjures up sportsmen like Ruth, Gehrig, Hubbell, Grimes, etc.; but my thoughts turn to the greatest trio to ever play the infield, the combination play of "Tinkers, Evers and Chance." There is always a cheer for a champion in his own right but the superb skill and co-ordination of three men acting in unison as these three did, is, in my opinion, the ultimate of perfection in motion.

Here at Morton Brothers, your Pontiac-Buick dealers, we would like to think we offer something in the way of combination play. Perhaps you will bear with us if we say we are proud of our infield "experience, quality and service." You just can't go wrong with that lineup on any team.

TELLS OF WORK DONE BY W.M.S. FOR NEW CANADIANS

Miss Smythe, secretary of community friendship in the Women's Missionary Society, was guest speaker at the Afternoon W.M.S. Thank-offering meeting on Thursday, April 13, at Trinity United church, Newmarket. Mrs. F. Robinson was in the chair.

An experienced worker in this type of home missions and a pleasing speaker, Miss Smythe gave an interesting account of the community friendship work among newcomers to Canada. In addition to assisting these new Canadians in many ways, this organization has, in Toronto alone, 200 workers teaching English and citizenship in evening classes.

Mrs. L. Bovair, accompanied by Mrs. W. R. Stephens, added to the pleasure of the program by an Easter solo. A social half-hour followed the meeting when tea was served. At the next regular meeting, on second Thursday of May, the sale of supplies for relief work of the W.M.S. will be packed.

On that opening day of the campaign, Dr. Jonathan Meakins, dean of medicine at McGill University, president of the Canadian Cancer Society and president of the Canadian Mental Association, addressed the Canadian club of Toronto at its regular meeting at the Royal York hotel, on cancer research problems. Dr. Meakins told of the work of the Canadian Cancer Society and its step-child, the National Cancer Institute.

Dr. Meakins said that in Toronto with an approximate population of one million, it could be expected that there will be 2,500 cases of cancer develop yearly. He said cancer was increasing but with qualifications. Fifty years ago, the life expectancy at birth was 40. Now, for women it is 70 and for men it is 66 to 67.

The significance of this is revealed when it is realized that the great majority of cancer cases develop after 40. So that there is this greater increase in the population of the cancer-susceptible age group. Dr. Meakins said that the age factor was of outstanding importance in the consideration of this disease. "But, this is not the whole story," said Dr. Meakins, "because we must try and tackle the problem not only as to detection and treatment, but as to cause and the first is largely dependent on the second."

In 1936 a campaign was instigated, the George V Cancer Fund as a memorial to the 25th anniversary of the King's coronation, to finance research. At that time a half-million was raised and these funds were used to establish what has since become known as the Canadian Cancer Society.

Dr. Meakins said, "The society had a rickety upbringing and did not develop into a healthy or vigorous child. When the war came, it ceased to grow." It was not until 1945 that the society took on new vigor and divisions were established across Canada in each province with units operating in villages, towns and cities.

The program of the Canadian Cancer Society is divided into three classes, education, welfare and research and with the latter is coupled the training of experts necessary for the specialized work in cancer.

In education, the first branch of the work of the Canadian Cancer Society, the main effort is to bring knowledge and hope to the people as distinct from the traditional ignorance and fear. To do this, the society provides speakers and films for public meetings; arranges displays for fall fairs and exhibitions; distributes information through press reports, magazine articles, radio interviews and through the printing of its own literature.

To many a confused, frightened person, The Little Red Door, 809 Yonge St., has brought sympathetic understanding since it was recently opened. At this centre anyone can go and be advised as to the proper course of action regarding the disease.

The voluntary cancer dressings service has spread across Canada as evidence of the second phase of the society's work. In Toronto alone, 30,000 dressings are distributed monthly. Dr. Meakins in his talk explained that it was not feasible to have operative units scattered throughout the rural areas so that in cases of need transportation is offered to bring people from distant parts to the centres where diagnosis and treatment may be carried out.

These patients which the society assists financially are either hospitalized or boarded out depending on the type of care necessary. The society again steps in to help defray costs.

Home Nursing
Another phase of the welfare work is accomplished in home nursing which is carried on through some recognized group such as the V.O.N. or by the society's employed nurses. The Canadian Cancer Society collaborates with the Red Cross wherever they have a sick room loans cupboard established and it supplies the specialized types of equipment and materials needed by cancer patients.

Home care for the children when the mother is ill is another big job tackled by the society. Here it is not merely a matter of providing a housekeeper to handle the routine family duties. Every effort is made to find someone who will bring hope to the household disrupted by the chronic disease and the program is approached from a social as well as the medical and economic point of view.

LARGE ATTENDANCE PRESENT AT 'RIDGES H.S. ASS'N

Oak Ridges Home and School had a good turn out on Monday night. Nominations were received for next year's officers. Election will be held at the annual meeting in May.

A film strip machine was demonstrated and the meeting decided to purchase it for the school. Reports of the O.E.A. convention were given by Mrs. Woods and Mrs. Stephenson.

Mrs. L. Harden arranged a splendid musical program. Two violin numbers by Mrs. Harnden accompanied by Mr. Herman Fowler, Newmarket, and solos by Anne Stephenson and Donald Watson were much enjoyed. An evening of motion pictures and a sale of home cooking were arranged to take place soon. Watch for dates. The sale will take place at the hotel through the generosity of Mr. Grant McCachen.

—Mr. and Mrs. Scott Gillett, Courtland, N.Y., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon, Port Perry, and Mrs. E. Chalmers, Oshawa, called on their aunt, Miss Francis Brown, last week.

—Mrs. Percy Thomas and son, Bruce, Creemore, spent part of the Easter holidays with Mrs. Thomas' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hart.

Seven Zephyr Plays Help Cannington To Rural Hockey Crown

Cannington last week captured the Ontario Rural Hockey Intermediate "A" championship. Probably most of the local fans caught this piece of information but may possibly not have noticed the fact that seven of the members of the championship team hailed from Zephyr.

These seven need no introduction to district hockey fans and at least three are well known in Lake Simcoe softball circles. The Zephyrites on the championship squad were Clarkson Arnold and Stanley Lunney, both 60-minute defencemen, and Ken Pickering, Chesley Lunney, Roy Taylor, Ivan Clark and Don McPherson.

Cannington won the crown at Lindsay, defeating Centreville two games to one and making a come back after losing the first game of the best in three series at Ingersoll. In their parade to the top, Cannington knocked off Minden, Omeme, Oakwood, Bright and finally Centreville.

SUTTON TRIUMPHS

Sutton "Greenshirts", Trolley league finalists, galloped to a 10-5 win over Stouffville "Clippers" last week at Stouffville in an exhibition encounter. The Greenshirts did the job mainly because they called in "Joinder" McComb to bolster their team. McComb scored five of the Greenshirts' ten goals.

NEWS 'N' VIEWS

By George Huxley
ERA AND EXPRESS SPORTS EDITOR

Can't stick handle around the fact that this week closes shop on last body-check, cross-check and back check for the hockey wacky. Heartening indeed to see the Spits with the trolley jug in tow. Congrats to Stan Smith and company. Course, we knew it all the time. Said so last December. If you didn't take our word for it and worried through the last three months, it's your own fault.

Discourse in the inner circle—our cronies hanging over the penalty box say even they were knocked flatter than the thin edge of the wedge by the way Sutton "Greenshirts" folded. That is, when pay-off tussles came up, they busted like a balloon.

Greenshirts, either by choice or by injuries, lost friends by closing out with make-shift side. It wasn't good and didn't sit right with the fans. Season is hardly over and we hear squeaks and long range squawks about the Trolley circuit. Certainly wasn't a rip-roaring as last year, but a good many hot sessions just the same. Addition of two Toronto sides, who brought neither followers nor, for that matter, a full team more than once, crimped the take at the gate considerably. Can't see condemning the whole show on that account.

Three of the four originals finished in the black. Aurora all but broke even. Spits made dough last winter, even more this winter, despite heavy casualty list. That's something that couldn't be said before the Trolley League revived.

Already rumors are flying that next year, it'll be senior B and junior B. Latter should go with a bang. But senior B—in capital letters means "imports", quite a number. Why go out after travelling puck-chasers wholesale? As it looks to us, maybe you've reached the same conclusion—Spits were home-brew crew and carried through to O.H.A. quarter finals, brought home the Trolley League crown.

Stan Smith, possibly haven't said it before, came up with a fine coaching chore. He welded the Spits into fast skating team, gave us pleasing hockey and winning hockey, which is something you couldn't say of many a recent shiny run. No, we'll take the Trolley set-up, watch our own boys go at it, local rivalry rather than high-tailing all over the map which would likely be the case with a senior B.

Hockey has slipped. Rules have changed. Days of Fairley Lake type of stick-and-roller are gone. Now the O.H.A. is trying to beat the smaller centres into their way of thinking of more and more imports. Point will be reached where North York will possibly have three, not more than four, teams in both junior and senior ranks.

It will be eight to ten teams if imports are kept down and puck carriers have to stay at home to play. Give our own boys the chance to play hockey and let the imports play where they belong—at home. Fan attendance has been mounting these past two seasons—after some gloomy years—so let's not kill a good thing before it actually gets rolling. Certainly the handling of the hockey in North York has been roundly applauded by the O.H.A. It's become one of best publicized groupings in the province.

Haskell's hash: Come on, you Aurora Hawks! It's up to Bill Mitchell and company if North York is to boast an Ontario championship. Hawks doused Wallaceburg easily. It's Collingwood in the finals. Should be quite a series. Canaltown fans have lots to cheer for with Orrie Thoms, Don Gibson and Grant Firth carrying the mail for Mitchell Hawks.

Call to the voters! Come in with those ballots for most valuable, most gentlemanly and all-star squads. Bradford hasn't come through yet, Harold Rogers hasn't given out with his.

Haven't mentioned it before but time we did: the work of the two bands, Newmarket Trumpet and Newmarket Citizens', which provided the music at the hockey games this winter. One visiting hockey man mentioned it was the first time noticed any arena in the province doing this and thought it a great idea. So we'll say thanks to the bands.

So we let go on a long shiny discourse and what happens? We get a call from Chas. VanZant, and Freddie Morris, Langstaff, to say the North York softball league is meeting. So why worry about such things as teams next winter. It'll all come out in the wash like the laundry.

Brother Bill has already been bitten by the ball worm and is all fired up about a cracker-jack hardball team. Talent enough in the district for sure. Maybe the birth in the big, strong, healthy tri-county circuit. One thing, we forgot to mention: need a sponsor, but quick. Any offers? If that isn't enough to give us spring fever, Ross Chapman, prexy of Lake Simcoe circuit, says likely organization meeting this week, while Morley Bain, a chap from Zephyr way, says they're coming up with a ball team this year out there in the hills. Well, it must be spring when they start acting that way.

Fresh water in Canada covers 228,307 square miles of the country's 3,690,410 square-mile area.

SIMCOE MEETS APRIL 26

Here's the call to Lake Simcoe softball clubs to play ball. President Ross Chapman indicates the organization meeting for the 1950 season will be held at Shar-on hall on Wednesday, April 26, at 8 p.m. Prexy Chapman hopes that each of the ten teams in the league will have at least one representative on hand for the meeting.

SPITS MATCH STONEYS 'TIL LAST 11 MIN.

The preview of the 1951 Spitfires—maybe—was excellent for 49 minutes and 20 seconds at the arena Monday. The Spits battled to that point on even terms with Bill Thoms' Stoneys of the major commercial series at Varsity. It was a 7-7 game.

Then the Spits sagged as Ston-ey's broke the tie and Spits stock lost more of its value in the last minute of play as Ston-ey's rapped in a couple of quickies to give the visitors a 10-7 triumph.

As it was, many fans were disappointed in not seeing Bill Thoms, playing coach, skate out to his accustomed place on the defense. Bill was raring to get at the Spits but hasn't been feeling up to par of late so had to shelve the idea. Two main changes were noticeable on the Spits line-up, Mac Clement, Markham flash, was on the ball-wait brigade and Bill "Joinder" McComb divided his time between patrolling on right wing and doing some blue-line chores.

Both teams had their shooting irons on target, concentrated on getting goals and made a good list of it as the score would indicate. The scoring cut was spread thinly. Normie Legge was the only two-goal man for the Spits. "Joinder" McComb and Mac Clement, the "new recruits", made their place with singles. The latter also became the chief casualty, requiring a stitching job to close a bad cut on the mouth from a flying puck. "Swiftly" Todd, Bill Johnston and Don Smith drilled home a shot each.

Geo. Vallier led the visitors' attack with his two insurance tallies in the last minute. Jerry Larmer salvaged the game with his tie breaker in the third frame. Stoneys: g, Mills; d, Shand, Davidson; c, Pendlebury; w, Vallier, McKewon; alts, D. Bark, DeRoche, Larmer, McCarthy, Formica, Samindych, C. Bark, Boehmer, Mathewson.

Spitfires: g, Tunney and Dillman; d, Bone, Gunn; c, Todd; w, McInnis, McComb; alts, Smith, Johnston, Legge, Mabbett, Caradonna, Tunstead, Cooper, Clement, Peat.

Referees: Bob Peters, Harvey Gibney.

Plan big ball year 8-team loop in N.Y. Inter-county final Negotiations for a bigger and better North York Softball League were started on the way Sunday at Langstaff when the North York delegates met at Fred Morris' store for the annual meeting of the association.

Present were delegates from Woodbridge, Schomberg, Langstaff, Lansing, Richmond Hill and Newmarket. Fred Morris, Langstaff merchant, was returned to the office of president, Charles Ryan, Richmond Hill, was named first vice president and Elgin Hastings, Schomberg, was chosen second vice president. Herbert Sabourin, Woodbridge, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Each team in the group will be asked to appoint its manager or representative to complete the executive.

The league will likely be increased to eight teams. Both Thistletown and Richmond Hill want to make entry. After consideration as to the advisability of splitting the group into two sections, it was voted to continue as one eight-team unit. The teams will play a double schedule with a start to be made around May 15. Play-offs would commence around August 15 with first four teams in the standing making the play-offs. A further meeting to check over the schedule will take place May 7 at Morris' store, Langstaff.

The delegates were quick to voice approval of a suggestion advanced by Gladstone Lloyd, Schomberg, that all leagues operating in the district be brought into a play-off series. This league would be known as the Inter-County Softball League. Leagues involved for the present would be the North York, York-Peel, South Simcoe and Lake Simcoe. Play-offs between the groups would be divided into two sections, an A for larger centres and B for smaller villages. Plans to further the idea will be carried forward without delay.

Farmers win opener Play return tonight

Howard Ash's overtime goal gave the Vondorf-Sharon-Pine Orchard Junior Farmers a 5-4 win over Cec. Andrew's Newmarket juvenile all-stars at the arena Thursday evening in an exhibition hockey game. Goal-getters for the winners were Lorne Shropshire, Bob Shropshire, Noel Ash and Howard Ash. The latter picked up two scoring credits winning the game with his overtime goal.

"Pepper" Martin, Murray McDonald, Bill Smith and Dave Couch popped in the Newmarket counters in a clean, fast game. Stan Gibbons coached the local club. The teams expect to renew their battle tonight and give the fans another taste of fast action. The evening closed with a skating party.

Junior Farmers: g, Lem Hall; d, Dave Richardson, Clem Ellis; c, Bob Shropshire; w, Lorne Shropshire, Bun Hood; alts, Noel Ash, Howard Ash, Ted Tidman, Murray Cupples, Cal Doan, Lloyd Balsoon, Howard Richardson, Arnold Johnston.

HAWKS WIN AGAINST 'BURG BY 1 GOAL

In a rugged, wide-open game which saw 24 penalties handed out, of which 18 went to Aurora, the Hawks took a narrow 7-6 margin at Wallaceburg last Saturday. That cinched the round by six goals for Aurora and sent them into the junior "C" finals against Collingwood.

Despite ten penalties to five, which left them short-handed most of the period, Aurora outscored the homesters 3-2. Atkinson, Simmons and Hill had it 3-0 for Aurora at one stage with Guertin and Dobbie getting Wallaceburg goals.

The second period was all Wallaceburg on the scoring record, the Yellow-Jackets getting three with no reply. Crawford went for two and McGee for one. Aurora only had a three-goal lead on the round at this stage and it looked as if anything might happen.

There wasn't much doubt, however, with the blue chips down as the Hawks flew like mad. Simmons (1.10), Attridge (7.55) and Gibson (8.50) and again at 15.43 put it in the bag once and for all for the Mitchellmen. Guertin fired another for Wallaceburg before the period ended but it was superfluous.

There was a large crowd on hand and the Hawks stood the long trip well. To fights arose in the first period and trainer Bill Hadfield was just about ousted by bewildered officials as he went to render first aid to one of the Aurora warriors. On the whole, it was a good job that the Hawks had a good margin on which to visit Wallaceburg as with much more encouragement by way of officiating, there's no telling what might have happened.

Tom Kirk committee Thanks supporters

The members of the committee in charge of Tom Kirk Memorial Night have expressed their sincere thanks to the merchants, factories, factory employees and others for the splendid contributions given in support of the event. Tom Kirk Night was recently held at the arena for school children featuring races and prizes.

To those who have taken the time and put forth the effort to secure the collections, the committee expresses its appreciation, also. Only through the generous support given is this eventful night possible. In addition, the staffs of the schools and the school children are deeply appreciative of the evening provided, as well as the means to secure playground equipment throughout the year, the committee states.

All vouchers for Kirk Memorial Night are redeemable from the Kirk Memorial Night fund. Contact H. A. Jackson, treasurer, 11 Raglan St., or mail accounts with vouchers attached.

MINOR HOCKEY BANQUET

Minor hockey teams, without doubt, have just completed their biggest and best season. To close up the shiny books in a fitting manner, the bantams and pee-wee teams will gather Tuesday evening at the Scout hall for a banquet. After the supper scheduled for 6.30 p.m., presentation of crests, awards and trophies to the winners will be made. It is hoped that it may be possible to have one of the Toronto Maple Leaf Hockey players as guest for the occasion.

RANGERS WIN SCHOOL LOOP BY 1 GOAL

Bowling, like the snow, is fast disappearing. A few items still kicking around like a note here that says the Office Specialty factory squad was too good for the Office Men's No. 1 crew. The muscle men from the shop won nine games, allowing the chair-sitters three, just enough to insure they got their pay week to week. However, the Office Men's No. 2 team made amends for their brethren from No. 1 by capturing all but one of the dozen games contested with the Office Ladies' team.

That much heralded spring sunshine that has arrived seems to have killed the proposed "big three" industrial league play-off. Next year, they say, and possibly if someone will come up with a trophy, Hoffman's, Davis' and Specialty's pin crews will do something about settling the issue on a yearly basis.

Grant Blight furnishes us with the averages and prize-winners of the Hoffman circuit. Here's how the averages look: Frank Vandenberg 209.6, Frank Daniels 193.9, Keith Davis 193, Al Bryson 191.6, Ivan Ruckold 184.6, Jack Duncan 184.3, Bob Wallace 180.7, Moe Crowder 178.9, Don Brown 178.3, Al Daniels 177.6, Les Woolven 176.6, Grant Blight 175.5. Frank Vandenberg over the season captured the high single mark with 379 and high triple with 795. As Frank Vandenberg had already received a prize for high average the high single prize was given to Allen Daniels with 339 and the three-game award to Frank Daniels on his mark of 744.

The Thursday Night gals will continue for the balance of this month. Top snooter last week was Ruth Penrose with 617 (243-192-184). Other fine scores were posted by Myrtle Dunn 598, Beryl Reinke 585, Edna McGrath 554 and Olive Hughson 551.

Snoops shoo-ed back into first place in the Monday Night ladies' league last week with a sweep of four points from the Jokers. Huskies pinned the Rookies into submission 3-1, Aces and Deuces shared. Standing now reads: Snoops 58, Aces 53, Jokers 52, Huskies 48, Rookies 46, Deuces 45. Marian Stark smacked out a three-game series of 875 (295-188-192) to steal the show. Other top scorers were Edna McGrath 645, Dorothy Bowser 617, Bea Daly 593, Agnes Gordon 563, Edith Wilson 555, Jeanne Gatti 548, Edith Hall 545. The gals are pleased to hear Elsie Cline, Deuces captain, is making steady progress at York County hospital.

Bell Hops are putting on a spurt and lengthening their lead in the Ladies' Lawn Bowling League. They have 40 1/2 points, Anna Bells 33, and Dora Bells 30 1/2. Hazel Hopper grabbed the individual honors with 581 (215-211-155) last week. Goldie Macnab was runner up with 549 (145-160-244).

Just a week to go, then playoffs in the V.L.A. circuit. May 12 has been set as the date to contest with city offices for the Bill Such Trophy. Lew Tompkins polled the single and two-game awards last week with the men with 289 and 431 respectively. Joan Fairry's 208 was high single with the ladies. Arlene McTavish and Violet Curtis tied

The temperature outside was hitting 70. The heat of battle inside the arena wasn't a lick lower as Canadians and Rangers battled for the school league pee-wee championship Tuesday afternoon. This was the completion of the game staged on Tom Kirk Night that ended in a 1-1 deadlock after ten minutes of overtime.

The teams used up all the time allotted to them on that occasion so had to have another go at it to settle the issue. It was Rangers who finished champions. They defeated Canadians 1-0. Rangers' captain, Bill Forhan, fired the lone and winning goal of the exciting tilt midway through the second period. Billy let fly a back-hander that reached into the top corner of the twine. Don Jackson, Canadians net-minder, didn't have a ghost of a chance to save as it whistled through a maze of players.

All the young fry gave their all. Outstanding were Locksley Stuffles, Ranger net-minder, Bill Forhan, and for Canadians, Bill Cain, Don Jackson, and Vern Hutchinson. H. A. Jackson, Canadians coach, was first to congratulate Mr. Jefferson, Rangers' chief. The Rangers celebrated their win in Stanley Cup fashion with a whoop that could be heard as far as Hogg's Hollow.

The champions: Rangers, Locksley Stuffles, Don Sutton, Bill Forhan, Don Zogolo, Gary Saunders, Bud Gillis, Laurie Curtis, Gord Burgess, Jim McArthur, Gary Legge, How Blair, Burton Smith, Gene Garrett, Gary Bugler, Bill McMurray. Canadians: Don Jackson, Harv. Burling, Vern Hutchinson, Bill Cain, Francis Lewis, Ron Dewsberry, Aub. Burling, Don Bone, Walt Leadbetter, Dave Carley, John Sealy.

Referees: Grant Blight, Frank Hollingsworth.

KESWICK GALS DO IT AGAIN WIN 11-2

It's been said more than once, never proved perhaps, that the woman's place is in the home. Well, so far as our gals' hockey team goes, after what we witnessed Keswick maids do to them Tuesday, we can well believe the very truth of this sage observation.

Keswick, just to prove that trimming it dished up to the Newmarket sweethearts a fortnight ago wasn't any chunk of luck, did it again but more convincingly this time, walloping our gals 11-2. Wouldn't quite be cricket to say that Percy Hutchinson could have had this game played at one end of the rink, the Newmarket end, but it just looked that way. Our gals, for two-game honors with 284. Standing, Pin-Ups 78, Timber-Ribs 74 and Scatter-Pins 51.

Last second shot Cost Aurora win

The first game of the finals on Tuesday night saw the Hawks in Collingwood and whoever wrote the script for the game might well have written a best seller or book-of-the-month thriller. The Aurora kids sustained a blistering first period attack, mainly through Paul Maguire's brilliant work to be only two down.

In the second they struck back to tie the score and then saw the green and white clad Collingwood team take the lead. Undaunted, they tied it in the third and finally took the lead at 14.25 from the stick of Bruce Collings. Two minutes later Collingwood got the equalizer and it looked as if overtime was due when Barney Walmesley iced the game for Collingwood at 5-4 with only three seconds left.

It was a real toughie to drop and in defeat the Hawks were as brilliant as at any time this season. Make no mistake about it, Jack Portland has a smart club that needs only an opportunity to get cracking and from here in, the breaks which eluded Aurora most of the night will play their part.

The Shipbuilders had a fire-cracker attack in the first period which nonplussed the Hawks with its viciousness. Dance tallied a beauty at 2.32 as Morrill set up the play. Barrett lengthened the lead at 14.40 and the Hawks' blueliners looked mighty bad, as they couldn't seem to clear. Aurora had five penalties to three for Collingwood with Switzer, classy Collingwood defenceman, Wardell and Hill, Aurora, both getting double tickets. Meek of Collingwood and Atkinson drew the others.

The second stanza was almost a complete reversal of form. Laurie Thoms netted the first for gaining hockey knowledge as they go along of course, proved no match for the visitors. They had six shots on the Keswick cage, got two goals, so didn't fare too badly.

Glenna Woodhouse with a helping hand from Marlene Martin scored Newmarket's first goal, while it was turn about for the second. Kay Peters, who travels hither and yon at a great rate, was the Keswick sharpshooter with three. Nancy Daly matched her teammate. Pat Donnell shot in two, Helen Sinclair, Grace Peters and Beverley Heaton one each.

P.S. Quit twisting my arm, girls. I was only spoofing about staying home. Keep at your shiny. Next year plans are underway for a three or four-team group. The Trolley League—ladies' division. Do you hear, Hines?

Keswick: Marg Harris, Betty York, Ruth York, Kay Peters, Nancy Daly, Helen Sinclair, Lynn Clark, Lynn Thompson, Pat Donnell, Helen Porter, Lorraine Dolan, Grace Peters, Mary Quinn, June Alder, Bev Heaton, Lily Beattie, Betty Scott, "Jacky" Lynas.

Newmarket: Ann Allen, Joyce Allen, Dorothy Edwards, Barbara Watt, Marilyn Barker, Glenna Woodhouse, Betty McArthur, Rosina Wadsworth, Evelyn Wadsworth, Joanne Robinson, Marlene Martin.

Referees: Bill Johnston, Ian Brown.

What about meters?

Are they really helping to solve the Main St. parking problem?

Or are they, as some critics claim, driving business away from Newmarket?

The answers to these questions can only be given by the people who use the meters.

Parking meters were installed in Newmarket in November of last year on a trial basis.

Since they were put into operation, they have been criticized and praised. They have been installed long enough for those who use Newmarket as a shopping centre to form an opinion of them.

The Case for the Meters

Newmarket has been troubled by a parking problem since the first automobiles trundled down Main St. The narrowness of Main St. has been a constant aggravation of the problem. With cars parked on both sides, there was scarcely room for two cars to pass in the centre traffic lanes.

Some relief was provided when the curbs were knocked out and Main St. widened three feet or more. But Main St. still is too narrow for the major traffic artery and through highway of a busy and growing town.

Various attempts have been made to solve the parking problem by limiting parking to one side of the street, and when that brought protests from merchants on the other side of the street that they were being discriminated against, by forbidding parking on certain days on the east side and then on the other days of the week, on the west side.

Then, of course, the protests came from the confused motorists.

All-Day Parking
Another contribution to the parking problem was the number of businessmen who drove to work in the morning, left their cars parked on Main St. all day, and then drove home at night. Police enforcement of the existing traffic laws was a tedious task, one which invariably caused more rows than enforcement was worth as the penalized citizens stood on "their constitutional rights".

The Case against the Meters

Traffic meters have the uncomplicated title given them by those who put their coppers and their nickels in of "bandits". The term does not arise so much from the amount they charge as the general inconvenience of using them.

Customers don't always have a copper or a five-cent piece on them and the reminder of the red "violation" sign is an irritating memory.

Other irritations have been the frequently repeated charge that the meters run too fast. "I timed the one I was parked in front of," said one irate customer. "I found it ran 18 minutes fast in the hour."

Enjoyable Feature
But perhaps the most overriding objection is that the traffic jams and the crowds were one of the most enjoyable features of Saturday night shopping.

WHAT IS YOUR OWN OPINION?

The parking meters were installed in the belief that they would contribute to the benefits of shoppers in Newmarket, as well as easing a traffic situation which had long been a disgrace.

If their installation seriously affects Newmarket's position as a shopping centre, an alternative solution to the traffic situation will have to be found.

Newmarket businessmen are acutely aware of their dependency upon the out-of-town business. They are anxious to encourage, not discourage, that business.

If parking meters are, in the opinion of the majority of out-of-town customers, a benefit, then they will no doubt be continued.

If parking meters are, in the opinion of the majority of out-of-town customers, a benefit, then they will no doubt be continued.

The parking meters were installed for a year on a trial basis. Almost half a year has passed since they began to operate. Ahead are the summer months when a heavy volume of traffic passes through Newmarket to and from the lake. A fair trial would seem to include summer-time experience as well.

In the meantime, however, an expression of opinion from out-of-town customers would be of valuable assistance in determining customer reaction. Readers are asked to simply check their preference on the coupon and mail it or leave it at The Era and Express office.

'Too much speeding' Propose speed trap, Summons for Aurora

There is definitely too much speeding in Aurora, according to the members of the town council. Councilors also expressed the opinion at Monday night's council meeting that it is getting necessary to hand out more parking tickets.

Farm Federation News

V. S. Millburn, secretary of the federation of agriculture, recently presented a brief to the Ontario cabinet which asked for legislation to co-ordinate farm marketing of farm produce to protect the farmers and without exploiting the consumer.

The premier and three cabinet ministers were present. Only half of our farm executive was present. Mr. Millburn asks the question: are we all getting too busy to look after our government and organization business? Can we ensure our members of parliament for lack of interest when at election time very little over half of those eligible to vote use their franchise?

The support our farm leaders give is more than the farm families give. Mr. Millburn gave days of thought and study to the legislation he wanted. There are many angles, from producer to consumer, to consider. From the farm gate to the consumer the price spread on farm produce is 20 to 60 percent. The farmer does not think he is getting his fair share of the consumer's dollar. The consumer considers he is not getting enough value for his money in food. The middle man, when he has bought farm produce outright thinks he has a right to place his mark up without regard for price paid the farmer or charged the consumer.

Here is the problem Mr. Millburn is faced with. It is not an easy task that the farmer has undertaken. There are two ways that each farm family can help: get active in your school section, get your township unit of the federation organized. The other way you can help is to stop beefing. In the shortest way to say it, put up or shut up.

Why make yourself miserable and everyone you come near by complaining and doing nothing. The farmer says with high prices for grain and very uncertain livestock prices, the farmer just can't stay in business. And yet the farmer goes Councillor Davies pointed out that in the past Aurora was known for the number of speeding tickets the local police used to hand out. He said that he felt it was necessary to revert to that system.

He also indicated that a speed trap would do a lot of good. He suggested that signs be put up at both ends of the town warning motorists of the speed trap.

Councillor Davies said that they have a system like that in Oakville, Ontario, and the speeding had decreased in the town.

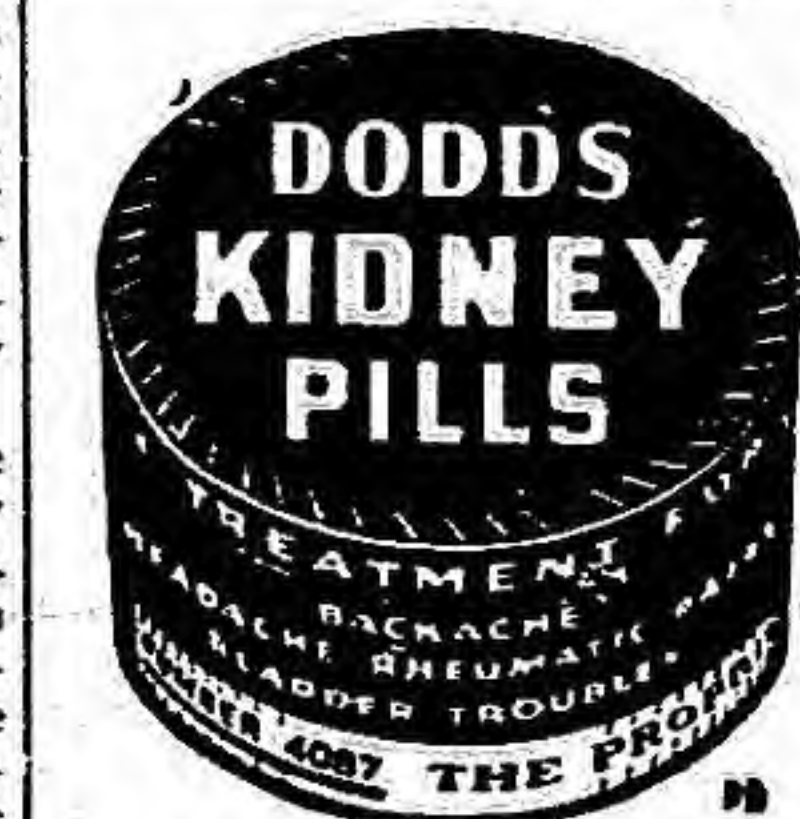

Wellington Ave. was also called a speedway by Deputy-Reeve L. H. Corner. Mr. Corner said that cars speed up and down there without even thinking of the speed limit or of the children who might be playing there.

Councillor Don Glass said something has to be done and done fast before some children are hit.

New stop signs will also be put up in the town. A special meeting of the police committee and the members of the police force will be held to determine which streets are actually through streets and which streets are stop streets.

BROWNHILL

As we begin writing this column this week, we can't help mentioning how sorry everyone was to enter the church last Sunday for Sunday-school to find the church windows had been shattered by bullets from someone's rifle. This destruction is very poor gratitude to two people who have been very fine and grand and good. Every Sunday that is possible they come without any pay in cash, even to buy gasoline for their car, and load their car as much as they can with happy children all along the route to and from Brownhill. We are sure the person responsible will go and repair damage done. We do not usually like to mention things of this type but hope that the person responsible will read this as our Sunday-school funds aren't large enough to pay for a plastering job, new windows, etc.

Easter Sunday we had an attendance of 31. Very good for Brownhill.

Practising for Mount Albert

Most of the young folk of Brownhill are busy rehearsing their plays and music for next Friday night at Mount Albert hall. We assure you of even a better show than we had at Brownhill and hope Mount Albert will be well pleased with the show. There will be notices up all over Mount Albert and other villages.

Mrs. Leslie Nelson is still quite ill and last Friday, Mr. L. Nelson had to be brought home from work. We hope both are soon well again.

We are very glad Mr. E. Duewell is getting stronger and hope he will soon be home again though he had been injured quite seriously.

Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mitchell over the Easter holidays.

Mr. Stan Wilson has returned home after spending the winter in lumber camps.

Mrs. Mary Green and son, Donny, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Selby Sedore.

PLEASANTVILLE

About 35 folk were present on Wednesday evening, April 12, at Bogartown Club. Mrs. Fletcher sang several hymn selections. Stuart Starr gave a reading and Mrs. L. Harper read the Chronicle which was prepared by Albert McMillen. Rev. Mr. Brecken of the Christian Baptist church, Newmarket, gave an inspiring message on every day Christian living.

Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Frank Williams in the loss of her mother, Mrs. Peter Homer, at Schomberg.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith and son, Clarke, spent the weekend in Toronto. Miss Shirley Smith returned home with her parents after holidaying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Colville were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Evans, Sharon.

Mrs. G. McClure spent several days last week at the home of Mrs. Robt. Jewitt, Kettleby.

Miss Mary Sheridan spent last week with Mrs. D. Harrison, Aurora, and Mrs. E. Bateman, Snowball.

Bogartown school re-opened on Monday with Miss Ratcliffe, teacher, and Mr. Euehart, Toronto, as student teacher.

Small House Plans . .

THE BURTON has a square floor plan, but this small house, because of its low pitched gable roof and projecting bay window, does not appear to be square when looked at from its deceptive exterior.

The Burton features a comfortable living-room, two bedrooms, with bathroom in between them, a combination kitchen-dining-room and a full basement. The living-room contains a projecting picture window with a 12" ledge and overhanging eaves. The exterior is finished with wide siding and an asphalt shingle roof. The bedrooms have wardrobe closets with overhead storage space. The linen closet is next to the bathroom and there are additional closets in the living-room, kitchen and bedroom hall.

The overall dimensions of The Burton are 28' by 28' with a floor area of 784 square feet. There are 15,288 cubic feet, including the basement.

For further information about THE BURTON, write the Small House Planning Bureau, The Newmarket Era and Express, Newmarket, Ont.

Carnival prize list

Matching in every respect the success of the challenge hockey game was the balance of the Optimist-Lions carnival last Wednesday evening. It was a full evening in every respect, covering various aspects of the arena activity during the winter. There were two other hockey games, a squirt and bantam all-star game. The former was won by the Popcorns over the Peanuts 1-0 on Tony Brooks goal. Bob Forhan led his team to a 5-2 win over Bob Attwell's in the bantam show.

Maureen West stole the spotlight and the fans hearts with a nicely executed figure skating act. Later Joan Quinn and Jean McDonald were equally successful with their rhythm skating. Following this, the fancy dress carnival took front and centre. The costumes were varied and indicated many hours of work in preparation. Prizes were awarded as follows:

Girls under seven: comic, The Two Clowns, Patsy McGuire and Jean DeBruyne; mimic, Little Witch, Pat West; historic, Queen Wilhemina, Barbara Jean Aikens; futuristic, Sally Elizabeth

Brice; original, Rose Ann West. Boys under seven: original, Kitchen Gadget Man, Jimmy Aikens.

Girls 8-12 years: comic, Eskimo, Diani Gould; mimic, Irish Colleen, Nancy Quinn; historic, Highland Lassie, June Pinder; futuristic, Mary Vale; original, Roxy West; special, Elizabeth Giovannelli.

Boys 8-12 years: comic, The Jester, Jack West; mimic, The Leopard, Howard Brice; historic, Lord Calvert, John Insley; futuristic, Party Girls, Chas. McGuire, Bob Doyle; original, Robin Hood, Kinsey Dillane; special, Paul Forhan.

Over 12, ladies: comic, Poor Relations, Marlene Martin, Joan Robinson; mimic, Card Deck, Cecilia Forhan, Laura McDonald; historic, Queen Anne, Jean McDonald; futuristic, Drum Major, Mary Perry; original, Lady and Gent, Olive Hughson, Mrs. Tom Spence.

Over 12, men: comic, Clown, Chas. Rutledge; mimic, Olive Oil, Ward Gowan; historic, The Pirate, Glen Marles; futuristic, Vic Higginson; original, Vic Langford.

The clowns, Vic Langford, Vic Higginson and Del. Gibney, added just enough spice to keep all in good spirits. Miss Joan Quinn was crowned carnival queen. Jim Walker acted as master of ceremonies and Bill Geer, chairman of the arena commission, made everyone feel at home with his welcoming remarks.

Judges were Mrs. Lear White, Toronto, Mr. Ross Workman, past president, Toronto Optimist Club, and Ralph Tucker of Aurora Lions Club. Incidentally "Olive Oil" stole the show.

New Fire Engine

Mount Albert is grateful to Howard Morton for the nice write up he gave our new fire equipment. We are all justly proud of it and felt so much safer as soon as it landed in last week. It may seem like a lot of money but it is certainly well spent. After years of talking our town fathers actually went ahead and did it. They surely deserve a great deal of credit, also the many others who have worked so splendidly to help them. Let's all get busy now and pay for it. How about it?

The Women's Institute held a community card and dance party in the hall on Tuesday evening with 11 tables of euchre and six tables of Five Hundred, a small crowd than usual. The lucky prize-winners were: for euchre, Norine Risebrough and Austin Lunau, with the consolation prize going to N. Wilson and Mrs. Sam Harper; for Five Hundred, Mrs. Guy Williamson and Denzil Oldham, and consolation prizes to Harold Rose and Mrs. E. Macpherson. A cake donated by Mrs. Ira Morton brought $11.87 by Chinese auction. The net proceeds were $36 which went to the firemen's fund.

Guernsey club sales

Average $285

Top price $500

The York-Simcoe Guernsey club sponsored a successful sale of registered Guernseys last week at Woodbridge when 43 head brought an average of over $285, despite the fact that 14 of the animals consigned were under ten months of age.

The top price of $500 was reached for Fraserdale Milton's Belle, a lovely two-year-old consigned by Jack Fraser, Concord, and purchased by N. F. Thompson, Scarborough. Normadale Imperator's Harriet, a five-year-old cow consigned by Kingfield Farms and purchased by John McKenzie, Brantford, brought $485, while Glenville Janie, a two year old sold by J. H. Crang, Newmarket, to Mrs. R. S. Robertson, Cobourg, brought $450. While the top price was $500 it is interesting to note that ten animals reached $400 or better. Included in the sale were six calves born since Jan. 1 which averaged $160, consigned by breeders in order that boys entering calf club work would have an opportunity to obtain calves for their projects and eight calves under ten months of age which averaged $200. Six open heifers made an average of $238, and 11 bred heifers brought an average of $383. Eight cows fresh or due shortly averaged $340 and four cows due in the fall $336.

The auctioneer was Harold Brown, Cornwall, a Guernsey breeder, while the committee responsible for selection of cattle and handling of the sale was Harold Clapp, Concord; Chas. Henshaw, King; Alan Baisdon, Sharon; D. G. McAllister, Richmond Hill and Jim McCullough, Newmarket.

LET THE EXPERTS WORK FOR YOU

FARMING

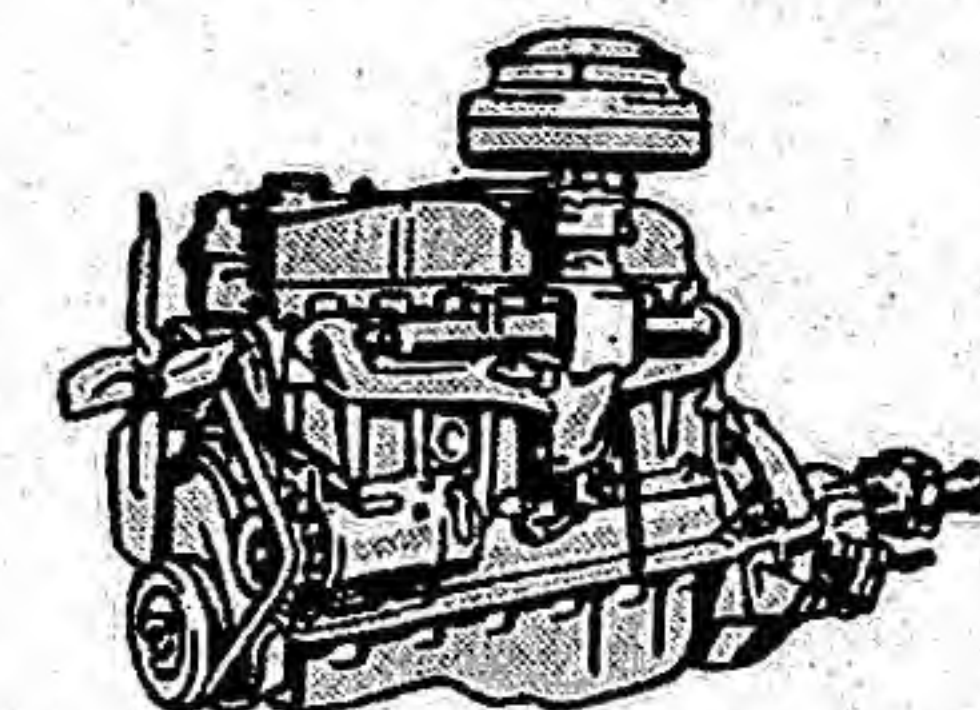

Progressive farmers are learning that they can often cut down their hours of work and increase their earnings through interchange of ideas.

The simplest way to let others do much of the spade work for you is to consult your nearest Agricultural College or Experimental Farm and to refer to their publications. These institutions are clearing houses of information, testing places for new ideas. They do the costly experimenting, you profit by the results.

Another way in which you can profitably make use of the experience of others is by consulting the manager of our nearest branch on money matters. We have been studying the financial problems of Canadian Farmers for 95 years, and our experience and knowledge is at your service.

Margarine sales 2 to 1 over butter In country - Morrison

It was very embarrassing to be told, as an officer of a farmers' group fighting the use of margarine, that it was being sold in country stores at a ratio of two to one with butter, said R. W. Morrison, guest speaker, when he addressed a capacity crowd at the banquet of District No. 6 of the Milk Producers at Buttonville recently.

"If farmers in any branch of dairying are using margarine they are denying themselves the right to be critical of the price they receive for their product," he said.

Get behind the project of our new fire equipment and see it progress. Help our schools more by providing prizes for competitions, short plays and essays. A curfew bell in Mount Albert would be a good thing, she said. Also a supervisor in the park at night. Sad to say, profanity is a disgrace in the village, and churches, Sunday-schools, day schools, parents, and everyone should do his best to try and supply good words for ill and so be more courteous.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

HANDS IN TRAINING...FOR ONTARIO

Learning Business Practice

IN Ontario the wheels of industry turn for the benefit of every single one of us. Our lathes, dynamos, drill presses, farm combines, tractors, business machines, etc. are producing goods and services which earn dollars. These dollars provide food, clothing, medical care and other necessities which contribute to our security and high standard of living. Every single one of us, therefore, has a very personal interest in the flow of a steady supply of trained workers to industrial plants. These workers will operate machines which are important to our way of life.

We should appreciate, then, the co-operative efforts of government, industry and labour in the field of employee training. In schools and in factories our workers, young and old, are given the opportunity to develop new and specific skills in every field of business and industrial activity. For instance, every effort on the part of office workers to become proficient in typing, filing, shorthand and secretarial work, will mean greater business efficiency—will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and work.

Our Way of Life Rewards Trained Hands

Ontario workers know they can earn more, have executive responsibility and enjoy a higher standard of living in direct ratio to the skills they acquire and the way they make use of them. That's always true in a free economy — that's why our competitive system will continue to make Canada great and a great place in which to live.
